

TOKAGAWA SHOGUNATE – MINDMAP ACTIVITES

ECONOMY

Learning goals – I can:

- Explain and justify the causes, effects and interpretations of events
- Discuss my understanding of national identity
- Explain the term 'mandate' and the connection of specific mandates to economic beliefs

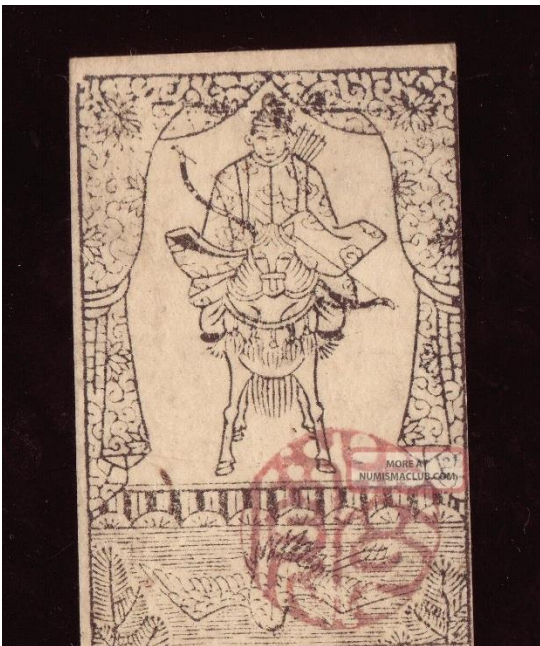

Instructions:

1. Define the terms 'economy' and 'mandate' and add key ideas and an image to your Mind map using the heading Economy.
2. Create a group brainstorm posters about the question:

Does behavior, standard of dress and rules influence the success of a country's economy?

The Tokagawa Shogunate mandated that all citizens should dress and behave according to their social status. This mandate could also affect who a person could marry, have alliances with and have business with. The Shogunate believed that peace and prosperity would come to the nation should the people behave according.

3. Take any key ideas and add these along with images to your Mind map.
4. Research and identify who Japan traded with primarily during the Edo Period and where the main ports were within the country. Find a map and record this information onto the map.
